PRIMIS announces new Masterclass series on Emerging Markets

PRIMIS has announced its Emerging Markets Masterclasses, a new series of mortgage forums for advisers and lenders. The forums have been designed to update attendees on new market and consumer trends which they can translate into their individual businesses.

As part of the sessions, advisers will have the opportunity to converse with lenders directly and learn about new areas of development within the mortgage market. Lenders who attend will be able to gain valuable feedback and input on their products, processes and quality of service directly from advisers.

The classes are being held throughout March* and are open to advisers and lenders across the UK.

Jay Naylor, Marketing Director at PRIMIS, commented:

“With the mortgage market moving at such a rapid pace, we understand it can sometimes feel tricky to stay on top of it all. That is why we’ve decided to launch a new wave of masterclasses aimed at combatting this very challenge, helping advisers and lenders to ensure their businesses stay ahead of the curve.

“PRIMIS is an adviser champion, which is why we believe that through peer-to-peer discussion and sharing best practice, more professionals will be able to understand and capitalise on the market opportunities.”
