Vikki Jefferies, Proposition Director at PRiMIS, comments: “The launch of our refreshed packager panel comes as consumer demand for specialist, second-charge and commercial lending solutions continues to grow. Reviewing our panel to ensure that the PRiMIS proposition reflects the growing levels of demand from customers will be invaluable for brokers looking to generate new or further business opportunities. With the backing of the new panel, more of our advisers will have the content and tools they need in order to offer a variety of solutions for their customers that they currently cannot provide. We are confident that with the panel's new level of service, accessibility and innovation, our intermediary members up and down the UK will be able to achieve even bigger and better things over the coming months!"
